Don was born to a mother struggling with addiction and a father battling alcoholism. Don had a troubled childhood with spiritual and emotional challenges, including night terrors, and feelings of rejection. He even saw his mom stab his dad. In later years, he had issues of substance use and brushes with the law. A turning point came when he surrendered his relationships and future to God, leading him to meet Jenn, his wife.

Jenn had a difficult upbringing and later experienced homelessness, teen pregnancy, and incarceration. After giving her child up for adoption, Jenn's life spiraled through crime and addiction until a profound spiritual encounter revealed Christ's love to her.

Jenn and Don raised two children and had a great time of blessing until adversity hit. They faced renewed heartbreak through personal loss and betrayal within their church, which led to a period of anger and distance from God.

The couple's faith is fully restored. Today they are directors for Weyburn Youth Center. Don also ministers through a TikTok channel with 200,000 followers.
